As a motivated and dedicated individual with significant expertise and understanding in Web development utilizing numerous tools and languages, may develop a successful project that will contribute to the company's success. As a graduating student taking Bachelor of Science in Information Technology, I would like to show my knowledge, skills, and apply all the academic learning into a real world setting and to finally begin my career in the IT field.

I am writing this letter to express my interest to apply in the position for Web Programmer in your company. As a BS Information Technology student, I am properly educated and equipped with the necessary qualification for the position. I am confident and honoured to perform the job responsibility as a Web programmer.

Moreover, I have chosen to apply in your company where I believe that I can reach my full potential as a programmer. In line with your objectives, I also want to create a wonderful experience to every customer for every successful project in the future. I have attached my resume for your review for my educational qualification and experience. At your convenience, I will be available for a virtual interview. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully Yours,

Dharlyn O. Aquitania
